SPECIAL TERM OF COURT MONDAY

Monday the Mason Circuit Court, with Hon. C. D. Newell presiding, will convene in a special term, during which the mandate of the Kentucky Court of Appeals on the liquor question in this city will be read. During this term of court it has been decided to try the case of James Moore, held at the county jail on the charge of larceny. Moore is the man that Officer Dudley Bloomhuff arrested several weeks ago for carrying concealed weapons. He was also one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution in the case of bootlegging, tried in Squire Fred Bauer's court. Since his confinement in the county jail Moore has been acting queerly and it is thought he may be insane.

Mr. C. E. Slatterfield of Bracken county, was a Maysville business visitor on Friday.

Mr. Harry Apperman of Augusta, was in this city Friday on business.

Prize of Hourton Goes Down in Defeat Before Maysville High School Quintet.

Friday night before the largest crowd of the season the fast Paris High School basketball team went down in the mire of defeat before the speedy five of the Maysville High School.

A preliminary game between the Freshmen and the Grade team which was played before the big game, resulted in favor of the class of 1915 by the score of 31 to 9, for which Cashish was responsible for 14.

The principal event of the evening was called at 8 o'clock and after the toss-up at center the ball was passed back and forth for several minutes until a foul was called on M. H. S. and Barnett, one of the Hourton boys' forwards, registered on the advantage shot. This small lead was soon exterminated by the loop-the-loop shot of Smoot, the lengthy forward of the locals, who started the ball rolling for Maysville. Not to be outdone by his subordinate, Captain Hampton of the Gold and White tribe, opened up and by some classy dodging evaded the splendid guard, Lavin, and rung up the second goal for the boys from Mason. Smoot repeated. Hampton took advantage of a foul on Adair and rung up the first lone point for Maysville and Smoot went him one better by cagging another goal. Then Little Edward Parker made a fitting end of the first half and gauged his long guns and pulled off his favorite shot, a goal from the center of the floor. For Paris Barnett was able to get another free throw in the basket, ending the half with Maysville on the credit side of the ledger by the score of 11 to 2.

After the usual rest of twenty minutes of rest, during which the coaches of both teams exhorted their men to get busy, the game resumed. Maysville evidently must have taken heed of Coach Mance's words of advice, as they started right the minute the second half was ushered in. Wood, the consistent center of the locals, staged one of the circus stunts of the evening when he located the goal with Humphrey Adair, the heavy center of the Paris bunch, hanging on his shoulders. This feat was one of the prettiest pieces of basketball ever seen in this city and much applause greeted the stunt. Captain Hampton, with the aid of the local admirers, who by their joshing got the better of Little Bobby Lavin, and once started, the big captain of the Maysville team, was impossible to head off. Urged on by the cheers of the crowd, Captain Hammy started to ring up points at will. Smoot after playing with his opponent and shooting baskets at will, retired in favor of Chenny Everett, the boy with the big record. Chenny kept up his reputation and soon had Adair, his guard, guessing. Then Shea, who had been playing the defensive game of his life in the Paris end of the court and who was in no small way responsible for the smallness of the Hourton score, tried his eye on the Maysville basket, shooting the ball from well beyond the center of the floor and getting a basket. This with another basket from Shea ended the scoring. Hayden and Adair after several efforts, scored six points between them for the Paris aggregation, which was all the scoring that Paris could do. The game ended with Maysville in the lead to the tune of 42 to 8.

The summary:
Maysville Position Paris
Hampton R. F. Hayden
Smoot L. F. Burnett
Wood C. Adair
Kerr L. G. Lavin
Parker L. G. Rice
Field Goals—Smoot 6, Hampton 5, Wood 3, Shea 2, Parker, Everett, Hayden 2, Adair.

It rumors that Tommy Leach, the small veteran outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, wishes to take the active management of the local Ohio State League team during the coming season are current. Now that Josh Devore, the former manager, has signed up with the Phillies, Leach would be a good man to fill Josh's place. Wee Tommy has been a big leaguer for a number of years and knows the game and would make a good leader.

SUMMER'S COAL BARGE.

During the recent high water a skiff belonging to one of the ardent rivermen of this city, was stolen and for several days a search up and down the river failed to reveal the missing boat. When the water receded the condition of Gable Bros. refused to move and after some trouble it was discovered that the skiff loaded with coal had submerged the float. The supposition is that a skiff was stolen and was being loaded with coal from the barges when it sunk.

HOBBIES

A prominent physician tells us that "hobbies" are healthy things for us to have, and we feel that we must be blessed with unusually good health, as we have ALWAYS had a hobby—and it's

HARNESS!

Years ago, when leather sold for nineteen cents a pound, our boast was that we made the best harness that could be made of good leather, good thread and good workmanship. Now, when that same kind of leather is selling for forty-nine and fifty cents a pound, we still maintain that we have the best harness that can be made. All you have to do to prove that we are telling you facts is to go to the next "sale," and hear Col. Hensley Hawkins say in that musical drawl for which he is so famous, "This is a set, gentlemen, of Mike Brown's Harness. What do you bid?" Then's when you can see the farmer "set up and take notice," for he knows there will be some bidding on that harness.

This is the time of the year, when Harness is foremost in every farmer's mind, and this is the time of the year, also, when we are ready to sell him. All winter long our men have been making up harness for Spring trade, and now we are ready. Of course, it's higher than when our grandfathers used to buy it, but, considering the price of leather, it's a wonder how low in price and high in quality the Square Deal harness is.

Come in, gentlemen, we are ready to rig up those horses.

SANITATION IN COUNTRY HOMES.

Country life, to city people, is idyllic for health, with water, air and food as pure as the open skies overhead. A different picture of country life appears in the annual report just given out at Washington by Surgeon General Blue. A typical statement from this report is that 50 per cent of the rural homes are drinking water from polluted sources.

Country people are ordinarily very complacent about their water supplies. If the water tastes good, it is generally felt that it is good. If the family has had good health for a period of years, the matter of proximity to stables or closets is not considered much.

Rural boards of health, where such exist, are apt not to take their duties seriously. Many of them would feel that they were appointed merely to take necessary action in case some serious epidemic should break out. They would not feel it was in their province to take steps in advance to remove possible chances of pollution.

Country people are jealous of their own prerogatives. A doctor or board of health man who came smelling about their premises would be likely to be considered officious and meddlesome. Provision men would not be likely to take kindly to rigid inspection of their supplies.

The old timers of country life were very sturdy old folks, who worried not about germs or infections. Probably they lived longer than the modern generation that has become so fussy about health and sanitation. At the same time people who have ever lived in the country must be impressed with the idea that doctors are usually busy. Cases of sickness are quite common, and are a favorite subject of conversation when other interests lag. Perhaps if country people paid a little more attention to modern science, there would not be so many people ill. A good home water supply is not costly in most places where it is not provided by public works. And medical services and nursing cost a lot more than they used to.

In 1915 there were sixty-nine lynchings in this country, and eighteen of them took place in "the imperial state of Jayhawk," whose predominance in affairs has also continued unimpaired by reason of Democratic control of the government and of Georgia's prominence in Democratic councils. Happily the day is near at hand when the nation will be ruled by states whose people have learned to rule themselves.

Secretary Redfield says in his annual report: "It is known, however, that the total value of our exports has been understated." It is not just barely possible that the same thing may be the case with our imports?

The crowd at the farmers' institute may show up a superfluity of whiskers, but a convention of business or professional men would be a much more favorable place for selling wildcat mining stocks.

It is claimed the navy is deficient in gun practice, but no one has claimed the sailor boys don't keep up with the new dance steps.

The principal thing in recovering from the grip is getting over the medicines they give you.

The grip epidemic beats even German efficiency in closing the munition factories.

February 5.

Sir Hiram Stevens Maxim, inventor of the rapid-fire gun and smokeless powder, two of the most important features of modern warfare, is 76 years old today. He is the head of the inventions board for the British government, to pass on projects and inventions relating to munitions for land service. Although he has achieved his greatness and his fortune in England, Sir Hiram is an American by birth. He was born at Sankerville, Me., on February 5, 1840, of a typical New England family. After a brief schooling, young Maxim was apprenticed to a carriage builder. Although he lacked the means for a college education, he found solace in the libraries, and was well versed in scientific data by the time he had completed his apprenticeship. Sir Hiram has styled himself a "chronic inventor." As a boy he dabbled with mousetraps, and finally perfected one that would catch mice. He was successful with various ideas, and when he thought out the workings of an automatic gun-fire, he reached the zenith of his career. Meanwhile he had solved the problem of the electric light filament and had invented self-regulating devices for electric currents. He took his rapid-fire gun abroad and it made a big hit, and honors were showered upon him. The rapidity of the Maxim gun called for smokeless powder, and Sir Hiram succeeded in making it. The noted inventor also took a hand at aerial navigation, but the powerful gasoline engine was not developed at that time and the aeroplane had to await the lighter engines of today. Sir Hiram was knighted by Queen Victoria in 1901. He is a member of many scientific societies.

ITEMS FROM ALL AROUND

Big Lard Producer.

(Hardinsburg Record-Press.)
O. W. Holmes of Madrid, killed a hog last week that weighed over 500 pounds and made fourteen gallons of lard.

Valuable Turkey.

(Glasgow Republican.)
H. B. Read sold one turkey to Messrs. Depp & Morris Monday for $4.95. That's almost as much as a hog is worth.

A Whole Hatch of Wolves.

(Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.)
On Tuesday morning William Turner and Perry Harmon found a litter of seven wolf whelps under the top of a cedar tree on the farm of Bill McKee on the Irish branch, not far from Locust. They saw the old wolf but having no gun she got away. The whelps were only a few days old and hadn't gotten their eyes open. They were killed in the presence of Judge Fulton and the emporers will apply to the Fiscal Court for a bounty on them.

Huge Coon.

(Palmouth Outlook.)
Albert Lancaster of Carleton, who enjoys an enviable reputation as a trapper, says he caught a coon last week in the wilds of Steptone creek that measured seven feet in length. The truth of this statement can be proven to any skeptical individual who will take the trouble to call on him. He has the hide tacked up on his barn. Albert was aware that this coon was in the fall and went of that vicinity as he had seen its tracks in the mud. They were as large as those of a 12-year-old barefoot boy. This coon was large enough to wade across Licking river when the water is at a low stage. Some of the boys believe that this coon was a first cousin to the bear.

Big Cattle Deal.

(Danville Advocate.)
J. C. Caldwell and son, Charles W. Caldwell, delivered last week, 348 head of cattle averaging over 1,400 pounds to Swarthchild & Soosberger of Chicago, at prices ranging from $7.85 to $8.71 per hundred. It took an entire freight train to carry the cattle to Chicago.

Big Hemp Deal.

(Hempstead Clipper.)
About 500 acres of Clark county hemp amounting in the aggregate to nearly 450,000 pounds, has been purchased by the firm of E. F. Spear & Son of Paris, at the reported price of $11.50 a hundred. This is the highest price paid for hemp in many years, and will doubtless stimulate many farmers throughout the hemp belt to increase their crops of hemp this year. Many express the opinion that the price will go even higher.

Peculiar Accident.

(Fulton Wireless.)
A very peculiar accident happened Tuesday afternoon at the home of J. M. Atherton, near Crittfield. Mrs. Bettie Atherton, his wife in drawing a bucket of water, was thrown into the elstern by the caving in of the earth around the elstern. Mr. Atherton rushed to her aid, but could not pull her out alone and called in some neighbors. In trying to get Mrs. Atherton out the earth crumbled again and the whole party fell in. Luckily the water was not too deep enough to drown them, or else they had presence of mind to cling to the bucket and hold up each other, and all were finally gotten out. Mrs. Atherton who stayed in the water longer than the others, was unconscious when taken up, but it was thought she was not seriously injured. She is about 75 years old.

"Uncle Aurio" Dind, said to have been in the neighborhood of 105 years of age, died at his former home in Happy Hollow Saturday night. "Uncle Aurio," as he was familiarly called, was universally respected by a large circle of friends and neighbors. —Vanceburg Sun.

Overland
Model 75

'615 With Electric Starter and Electric Lights

Four Inch Tires

HERE is another Overland Model. A brand new car at a brand new price. Many people prefer a car with the advantages of the larger and higher priced cars but that is smaller, lighter and more economical to run.

Model 75 is a comfortable, family car with virtually all the advantages of the very large cars at a price which is well within your reach.

The body is the latest full streamlined design with a one-piece cowl.

It is handsomely finished in solid black with bright nickel and polished aluminum fittings.

Five adults can ride comfortably.

The tires are four inch all around because we believe in the advantage of large tires. They insure greater mileage and comfort than can be obtained from the smaller size used on other cars of similar specifications.

The motor is four-cylinder, long stroke block type, having a 3 1/2-inch bore and 5-inch stroke. Horsepower is 20-25. It is of the most modern design.

It has high-tension magneto ignition. This is the kind used on the most expensive cars.

The electric starting and lighting system is one of the most efficient on the market. It is of the two-unit type.

The electric wipers are conveniently located on the steering column. This is the same arrangement used on the highest priced cars.

It has the easy working Overland clutch which any woman can operate. The pedals are adjustable for reach. The steering wheel is large and turns easily. The brakes are large and powerful.

The rear springs are the famous cantilever type. These are probably the easiest riding and most shock absorbing springs ever designed. With these springs riding comfort is insured.

It has a one-man mohair top.

In short, there is everything that makes this car up-to-date and comparable with many cars costing considerably more money.

You will be delighted when you see it. And when you ride in it you'll know instantly that this is your ideal of a modern automobile at your idea of a moderate price.

Other Overland models are—Model 83 four-passenger touring car $750, the famous Overland six seven-passenger touring car $1145. All prices being 1 a. b. Toledo.

Call, telephone or write for demonstration.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Maysville resident has withstood the test of all tests.

Frederick Dresel, tailor, 1238 E. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and an annoyance from my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and I had a severe pain across the small of my back which interfered with my duties. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They gave me prompt relief."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mr. Dresel said: "Since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, I have not had any kidney trouble nor have I had to take a kidney medicine in that time."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dresel has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

DECLARES WHEAT SAVED

Farm Agents in Session At Lexington
Think Wheat and Oats Destroyed Heavily By.

That the coming wheat crop of Kentucky had been saved from the Russian fly by the warm weather followed by frosts in November and December was the opinion expressed at the conference of county farm agents which is being held this week at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington.

Several of the agents reported that all traces of the destructive insect had disappeared in sections of the state where the wheat fields had been badly infested early in the fall.

On Tuesday Phillip Morris of Flemingsburg, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky. His assets consist of a stock of clothing, drygoods, notions, etc., while his liabilities are said to be over $2,000, a good many local people being caught to some extent, but the bigger part of it being due to wholesale merchants. This is the first business failure in that city for a long time and it was due to bad business methods, it is said.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theodore's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theodore's Black-Draught, which I did and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and I give them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theodore's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The session of the Woman's Club on Thursday afternoon was a very pleasant affair.

Mrs. Harlin Lucas sang two selections, the first, "Dearest," by Sidney Howard, and as an encore "One Fine Day," from the opera Madame Butterfly. Mrs. Lucas is one of Mason county's women who know how to do things and is at home anywhere. Her music is always the delight of all whom she favors.

The address of the afternoon on "The Evolution of Woman's Clubs," by Mrs. Eliza C. Covington, was well delivered and highly appreciated by the club.

She said in part: "We must first study the woman herself and try to discover the needs that draw women together by groups that come to be known as Woman's Clubs. Let us mention all the good things we know of ourselves. It is in order for me to say that I have had a little information from books, but we get our best knowledge from the Book of Life, the human woman heart within us. Do I wish to know what women in general think and feel about the great fundamental things of life? A search of my own heart reveals the ancient and modern history of all womanhood. We know that every crude for most industry in which the true woman labored was but the outward expression of the great inward urge of Mother Eve, that fundamental first law, the preservation and perpetuation of the species. If I should find myself with a desire to criticize my sex it would be that civilization has robbed a certain type of woman of life's biggest thing, and that biggest thing is the unselfish thought for others. Now and then we meet women who claim to recognize only personal obligations of looking after their own children and their own homes of four walls. Such women so confined to a sense only of personal duty without thought of civic duty can not even do her personal duty in a real way."

"New occasions teach new duties; Time makes ancient good uncouth; He must upward still and onward, Who would keep abreast of truth."

"Today there are but three occupations not open to women. I know that there are in the state of Kentucky 10,000 less illiterate white females than illiterate white males, while we have in our state prison at Frankfort 1,400 convicts, only thirty-four of whom are women. "The community spirit among women has been developed by Woman's Clubs. Unlike our brother's club, women's clubs have fostered the practical life ideal rather than 'Let's have a good time idea.' "From our mothers' sewing circle it was but a step to the aid society, then the literary society, then the culture club and then the woman's club with its civic and other departments. "Well, what do women know about war? During our own Civil war it was the strategic plan of a woman that saved the Union to the federal government. That woman was Miss Anna Eliza Carroll. She was the author of what is known as the 'Tennessee campaign.' Her services have never been recognized. She was a woman."

In conclusion Mrs. Firth gave a very touching description of a mother and her son in the European war. Mrs. Firth will be a welcome visitor to Mason county at any time. The address was followed by a recitation entitled "When Katrina Went to New York," by Miss Rebecca Hochmeyer. It was an excellent recitation.

The Bracken Chronicle says: Samuel True, representing a Louisville concern, was here the latter part of the week and purchased 60,000 pounds of old tobacco from R. P. Hamilton, at satisfactory prices to the seller. The weed was of the low grade which seems to be on a boom at present, and was shipped to Louisville during the forepart of the week.

Many suits against loan companies operating in Winchester to recover various sums of money under the surety law will likely be filed within the next few days. Several of them are already in preparation and it is said that fully thirty will be on the docket when Judge R. S. Scofield convenes the civil term of the Police Court next month.

Some time Monday night the house built by the late Steven L. Wait on the Brooksville pike near Augusta, was destroyed by fire. The place had been vacant for some time and was supposed to be the haunt of a gambler, etc. The building was in a dilapidated condition. It is not known how the fire originated.

Thomas R. Robertson, former sheriff of Bracken county, has been confined to his home on the Minerva pike for several days, suffering from a complication of ailments.

MORE ABOUT TUNNY FISH.

For fear there may be yet a few who do not know this delightfully flavored fish which comes to us from the Pacific, we will repeat. It is a white fish, not too rich, but with a flavor much like turkey and has been called the turkey of the seas.

A few new ways of serving this fish may be acceptable. Combined with cooked rice, well seasoned, and made into flat cakes, then browned in fat it is a most dainty dish to serve at any meal.

A small portion of the fish, left from a previous meal may be combined with chopped cabbage, a little green pepper and a mayonnaise dressing for a salad.

Served right from the can, hot or cold, with lemon quarters as a garnish and zest, the fish is simply served and liked by every fish lover.

Fish Omelet.—Beat four eggs until light, separating the whites and yolks; add four tablespoonsful of cold water and a cupful of fish, flaked, until light, with a fork. Turn into a hot omelet pan which has been buttered with a tablespoonful of butter, and lift the edges while cooking, so that the center will be well cooked. Season with salt and pepper and roll out the omelet on to a hot platter. Serve at once.

Tunny on Toast.—Take a rich cream sauce, using two tablespoonsful each of butter and flour and when well mixed add a pint of rich milk; cook until smooth, then add a can of the flaked fish, stir and cook until hot, then pour on slices of nicely-browned toast which have been softened in hot milk.

Tunny may be served in a steamed loaf as one does salmon, combined with mashed potatoes, baked or fried; made into soup, chowder, salad, fritters, cutlets, in fact, any number of dishes which will occur to the cook.

Lemon Sauce.—Into a double boiler strain the juice of a lemon, then add four tablespoonsful of butter, a dash of salt and a dash of pepper. When the butter and lemon juice are hot add the beaten yolks of two eggs; mix well and serve at once.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF MAYSVILLE.

The following letter will be of more than usual interest, as Mr. George W. Hayes, who makes the bequest, married Miss Helen Barkley, the sister of Messrs. Harry and Frank Barkley of this city.

It was his custom each Christmas to give to the Maysville Library a collection of books for each of his children. The gift is appreciated for its spirit and remembrance of Mrs. Hayes' home city. The letter follows:

New York, February 1, 1910.

The Public Library of Maysville, Maysville, Ky.

Dear Sirs:

I enclose herewith a notice that the last will and testament of George Washington Hayes, deceased, has been offered for probate in the surrogate's office in King's county, New York. As you are doubtless aware, the will contains a provision reading as follows: "Third: I direct my executors and trustees hereinafter named, to set aside the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) and out of the income thereof to pay over at Christmas in each year, as a Christmas present the sum of five dollars ($5) to each of the following persons or corporations, namely: my wife, Helen Barkley Hayes, and to Lucia Hayes Deuby, Jessie M. Merrill, Frank Dale Warren, the Public Library of Maysville, Ky., and to each of my trustees hereinafter named, the said trust to continue no longer than the life of my wife, and in any event, not longer than five years after my death."

On account of your interest under the will, we are required by the law to send you this notice that it has been offered for probate. My own connection with the matter is as attorney for the executor. Very truly yours,

FREDERICK T. CASE.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 6. "THE HOLINESS OF PETER AND JOHN." Acts 4. (By Rev. A. F. Stahl.)

The Lesson Story.

While Peter was preaching as given in the lesson of last week, the rulers of the Jewish church had him and John arrested, doubtless for disturbing the regular order of the temple service. The Sadducees also aided in taking these men because they preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead. On the morrow when Peter and John were brought out for trial before the Jewish court they were asked to give a reason of this conduct and also to tell how they performed this miracle on this lame man who stood in their midst cured. Then Peter under the influence of the Holy Spirit, spoke as plain as he had done on the two other recorded occasions, and laid at the door of the organized Jewish body the death of Jesus, the acknowledged Son of God. This plain speaking startled these accusers. They were puzzled as to what to do with these men, for they could not deny the fact of the miracle nor disprove the truth of the Apostles' statements about Jesus being the Christ. They therefore decided to threaten them not to speak in the name of Jesus again.

The Lesson Discussed.

Courage.—It did take a great deal of moral courage for these men to face the leaders of the Jews and give the same message they had given to the people of Jerusalem on Pentecost and on Solomon's porch. But they, as all other Christians, were under orders from the risen Christ to preach the whole Gospel to every creature. That truth then is true now, that Jesus is Christ, the King. It is our business to tell this truth to every man at home and abroad.

Remembering An Account.—These men were asked "concerning a good deed." They had healed the man and must now answer for it. If we are Christians today we are only asked about our good deeds by the outside world. It might be better for the church and the world. The trouble is we have too few startling good deeds and too many deeds that are no good that we fall to do the mighty work we, before heaven, ought to do. We too, will have to give an account of ourselves. Not only the earthly critic, but the Great Judge of the universe will ask us to explain.

"In the Name of Jesus."—As stated last week, we again say there is no power in any other name as there is in the name of Jesus. "There is no other name given under heaven among men whereby we can be saved." Let fathers emphasize this by word and conduct to their children, and let each admonish the other. For it is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the Living God unless we come through the merit of His Son, Jesus.

Joy in Persecution.—There are few people who are glad to say they are having a hard time being a Christian. There are few who are glad there are so many demands made on their time and on their means. But these Apostles when they were permitted to leave their accusers even after being beaten, left "rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonor for His Name." The greater the suffering the greater the reward, may be true. But these men were not thinking of their own reward, but of the exalting of Jesus the Prince of Life before the world, even at the cost of their own discomfort.

KINDERGARTEN RECEPTION.

Parents and a few friends invited by the children, composed an interesting and appreciative audience at the regular session of Miss Anna Belle Lewis' kindergarten Thursday morning. After cordially welcoming their guests and proving themselves most courteous little hosts and hostesses under Miss Lewis' leadership, the school formed in usual class order and entered upon the day's work as naturally as if no visitors were present.

A song of greeting to the teacher, their morning prayer and salute to the flag introduced the morning's program. A number of songs and games were rendered which though quite simple in themselves and pleasing to the little tots, were characterized in each instance by some special educative thought or action.

"Mother Day," a game designed to cultivate the hearing, very aptly illustrated how simple play is adapted to sense training by the kindergarten method. "The Snail Dance," involving rather intricate march formation for so young a group, called forth especial applause.

After songs and games were done they found their places about the table for constructive work, paper cutting, folding and building and the mathematical problems of Trebel's third gift.

In the story hour, omitted from Thursday's program, the little kindergartners take many first steps in history, literature, geography and nature study.

Miss Lewis has proven her splendid adaptability to her special line of work and her kindergarten so recently inaugurated, fully merits the success and approbation it is receiving.

Mr. Prasse Higgins of Dover, was in this city Friday attending the tobacco sales.

MODERN WOMAN REPUDES DUTY TO SOCIETY.

Boston, Mass. Boston women are repudiating the suggestion of a prominent Bostonian that modern woman repudiates her duty to society and that her attitude will destroy that same society. Brooks Adams, grandson of John Quincy Adams, is the man who has stirred up the argument. He wrote in the Yale Review that women ought to sacrifice themselves for the good of the whole in the spirit of the soldier on the field of battle. He believes that the surplus women in Massachusetts should either stand on their own feet economically or starve. He took particular objection to Miss Jane Adams' feminism, which demands a minimum wage scale for all women workers. The views of Adams have brought vigorous arguments from the women, and he is the center of a tornado of disapproval.
